Develop your future, at the NDIS Quality and Safeguards Commission, by helping to improve the quality and safety of NDIS supports and services.

JOIN OUR TEAM

The NDIS Quality and Safeguards Commission (the NDIS Commission) is an independent government agency established to improve the quality and safety of NDIS supports and services. Our purpose is to work with people with disability, providers and the community to deliver nationally consistent, responsive and effective regulation for NDIS supports and services. The NDIS Commission brings together various quality and safeguards functions into a single agency for the first time, and will have a suite of education and regulatory powers that apply across Australia. We are progressively rolling out nationally and by December 2020 will have a presence in every state and territory capital city. Our head office is located in Penrith, NSW.

The NDIS Commission presents an opportunity for you to join an organisation that actively works to improve outcomes for people with disability.

These roles provide you with the opportunity to work with NDIS participants, their families and advocates, to ensure their voices are heard on the important issues of quality and safety that matter to them. Help participants and providers solve these issues and, when that is not working, actively be part of ensuring that these important issues are addressed and resolved.

The NDIS Commission is committed to building a diverse workforce and inclusive culture. We strongly encourage people with disability to apply for roles and to reach out to our recruiters if you require an adjustment to the recruitment process in order to participate on an equal basis with others.
